The screenshot displays the Vocaloid Editor software interface. The top portion features a piano keyboard on the left and a pitch contour graph on the right. The graph shows a blue line representing pitch over time, with blue rectangular regions labeled with lyrics: "I've", "been", "wat-", "sing", and "you". The text "VOCALOID 5" is centered over the graph. Below the graph, the word "Walkthrough" is written in a large, white, sans-serif font, followed by the subtitle "create your own vocal samples" in a smaller font. The bottom section of the interface contains two control panels: "ATTACK EFFECT" and "RELEASE EFFECT". Each panel has tabs for "PITCH", "DYNAMICS", "TONE", and "ORNAMENTATION". The "ATTACK EFFECT" panel includes a "LYRIC" section with "I've" and "ai v" options, and a "PHONETIC SYMBOL" section. The "RELEASE EFFECT" panel includes a "SOFT" to "HARD" knob set to "1.0".
